

Core Service Unit Structure

The following positions are part of the core volunteer-led service unit support system. Your service unit is led by a service team, composed of experienced volunteers who support troop leaders and sometime Indy (individual) Girl Scouts in your area. Every service unit requires different levels of support for its success. The Product Program Manager position is the only required service unit position in addition to the Service Unit Manager.

